From the Inside Flap

The cats were missing. Mother Lavinia Grey noticed the signs pleading for the return of "Fluffy" and several other pets. But she was busy planning her first wedding at St. Bede's Episcopal Church -- for which she'd serve as the priest, not the bride -- and didn't connect the mysterious catnappings with the signs of a satanic cult. Until the other troubles began. Of course, Lucifer wasn't to blame for the return of a vengeful ex-con to placid Fishersville (or was he?). But a series of burglaries and the donation of a freezer chest to St. Bede's filled with something most macabre soon has Mother Grey researching the "Clavicles of Solomon" and looking for hexagrams. And with her companion, Detective Dave Dogg, out of town, she has only the Lord's help, and her own sharp wit, to find out who was doing the devil's handwork when a body -- headless and unnamed -- is found....

2nd book in series

By moderatelymoderate

Episcopal priest Mother Grey continues her mission to her church, St Bede's, and her town, Fishersville NJ. Murders keep getting in the way, however. And wonder of wonders, her nemesis Father Bingley is very helpful, though unwittingly. Most of the people encountered in Bury the Bishop show up again here, joined by some new ones, such as an oily dealer in semi-antiques. And if only Mother Grey had been able to convince Saraleigh that 2 children by 2 different fathers were enough. Lord help us.
